Magazines

Magazines will be presented as PDFs as this is quicker and neater to prepare than individual webpages.

You will be able to save a full copy to your computer without difficulty. The text has been typed so that you can search the magazine for key words. The first PDF copy has been uploaded today - The Marcian 1970.

Had an email from John O'Shea who received an email from former teacher Stewart McIntyre who expressed unhappiness at throwing away his 1960 copy of The Marcian. John happily emailed Stewart back saying he was busy scanning the pages of the very issue and it would soon be available online for all.

If you have a copy of a school magazine lying around in the attic and would like to share a bit of history with us please send us a good photocopy so that we can arrange to have it converted and uploaded for all to share..

History of St Marks

Towards the end of September we hope to have compiled a comprehensive history of our school. To achieve this we need your contributions - after all our school is nearly 100 years old !! Email us

Profiles - Leonora Everard Haden (1937 -)

On doing a WWW search on St Marks I came across an artist, Leonora Everard Haden, born in 1937 who attended school at St Marks in Swaziland. I've sent her an email and hope to hear from her soon.

Donations

Archie has uploaded his donations pages and will keep us updated on funds received. If you would like to donate please email John. Donations are collected for both the primary and high school and it is up to each school to contact us and let us know where we can help.

Our website

Our website is equally dedicated to those who attended either the Primary school or High school or like me both schools.

We do know that a lot of the high school Marcians attended primary school in other parts of Swaziland such as Manzini, Mhlambanyatsi and Nhlanguano. Some students attended Primary School only to leave for boarding school in South Africa or attend Waterford.

To provide a gateway we are happy to provide links to other Swaziland school alumni sites and look forward to receiving link details. Email.
